Disney CRUISE LINE

A photograph of a family of four on a cruise ship. A Disney Concierge, dressed in a grey vest and tie, stands on the left, holding a tray with a chocolate-covered ice cream bar and a small menu. He is smiling and looking towards the family. The family consists of a father in a red and white striped shirt, a mother in a grey cardigan, and two young children, a boy in a blue patterned shirt and a girl in a red floral dress. They are all sitting on a light-colored sofa, looking towards the Concierge. The background shows the white, angular architecture of the cruise ship's interior. The overall atmosphere is relaxed and luxurious.
